MERRYCHEF MICROWAVE OVEN TRAINING

First Choice Group Training has been working closely with Merrychef, a Welbilt brand, to deliver specialised microwave oven training with a focus on the eikon® range, including the popular e2s among other models.

Working on microwave ovens often requires special skills, particularly with safety requirements being so important to the technician. This course will cover all the procedures required for technicians to work safely and competently on microwave powered equipment. The candidate will also gain a sound knowledge of microwave technology and Merrychef combination ovens at the repair and service level. It is recommended that candidates attending this course possess basic electrical competence.

MERRYCHEF MICROWAVE OVEN TRAINING

This is a one day course including technical training on the Merrychef eikon® range, operational overview, technological understanding, safety requirements including microwave functions, Service level access and passwords, all included in a mixture of theoretical classroom environment learning alongside practical workshop sessions including part replacement and fault finding.
